KENTUCKY AND VIRGINIA

Join the Majority Who are Marching in the Ranks of Progress—The Solid South Broken at Last With a Vengeance—Particulars of the Waterloo.

New York, November 4.—Returns from all states received by the United Associated Presses indicate the election of McKinley. In all eastern states large pluralities are assured.

In southern and western states incomplete returns indicate democratic losses.

In the doubtful states the districts heard from show republican gains.

Cleveland, O., November 4.—Chairman Hanna has just telegraphed the New York Times as follows:

"The result as indicated at this time will exceed our estimates.

(Signed) "M. A. Hanna."

New York, November 4.—Secretary Osborne, of the republican national committee, has wired McKinley as follows:

"The indications are that New York city will give you 23,000 plurality; Michigan, 30,000; Chicago, 100,000; Baltimore, 15,000, and New York state, 275,000.

Secretary Osborne, of the republican national committee, has issued the following statement:

"Reports show that we have carried West Virginia by 25,000 majority, and New York by 3.0, 00. In Iowa the plurality will be 80 000 The republican majority will be 15, 000 in Baltimore and 10,000 in Maryland, and Ohio will give McKinley the largest plurality ever known. We expect to carry Virginia and Illinois will give a great majority. We are confident of Kentucky. McKinley and Hobart will be elected without a doubt.

Joseph A. Manley wired Mr. McKinley his congratulations on his certain election.

Secretary Osborne wired Hanna at Cleveland that 263 electoral votes are already assured with chances for 103 more.

Boston, November 4.—Late returns indicate 100,000 plurality for McKinley in this state.

Trenton, N. J., November 4.—New Jersey has re-elected a solid republican congressional delegation.

New York, November 4.—The Times says that McKinley has carried Minnesota by 50,000 plurality.

New York, November 4.—The Herald says McKinley carries Nebraska by 13,000.

New York, November 4.—The Times says Bryan carries Arkansas by 40,000.

New York, November 4.—The Herald says McKinley carries Kentucky by 15,000 plurality, and a majority of the republican representatives are elected. Breckenridge has been elected to the house of representatives.

New York, November 4.—The Times says Fitzgerald, of Boston, is the only democrat elected to congress in New England. New Hampshire gives McKinley 6,000 plurality.

A special bulletin says that New Jersey has gone for McKinley 50,000.

A Sun bulletin says chairman Talbott, of the democratic state committee, says the vote of Baltimore has given the state to McKinley.

New York, November 4.—The Journal says Virginia has gone republican by 15,000.

St. Louis, Mo., November 4.—Governor Stone, of Missouri, member of the democratic national committee, concedes the election of McKinley.

New York, November 4.—A Journal special says Ohio is probably republican by 100,000.

Chicago, November 4.—The Tribune, republican, claims Oregon for McKinley by a small majority.

New Orleans, November 4.—Indications point to Bryan carrying the state by about 20,000 to 40,000 plurality.

Boston, November 4.—A Journal bulletin says McKinley has carried Massachusetts by over 10,000 plurality.

Canton, O., November 4.—H. C. Payne wires Major McKinley that the national committee claims the following states, the majorities appended: Ohio 50,000, Indiana 40,000, Michigan 40,000, Wisconsin, 80,000, Illinois 100,000, Iowa 75,000, Nebraska 15,000, Minnesota 35,000, Kentucky 20,000.

New York, Nov. 4.—The Sun says Bryan carries South Carolina by 40,000.

New York, Nov. 4.—The Herald bulletin says: Vermont gives McKinley 38,000 plurality.

New York, Nov. 4.—A Herald bulletin reports that Maine has gone 50,000 republican.

New York, Nov. 4.—Seventy-six election districts out of 1,392 in this city give McKinley 7,227, Bryan 6,239; a republican gain of 3,879 over the vote for secretary of state in 1895.

One hundred and fifty election districts out of 1 392 in this city gave McKinley 14,353, Bryan 12,261, Palmer 495.

The returns so far received out of 1,392 election districts in New York city indicate a plurality for McKinley on the entire city vote of 23,000.

Two hundred and thirty election districts out of 1,392 in this city give McKinley 22,799, Bryan 19,035, Palmer 847.

Three hundred and ten election districts out of 1,392 in this city give McKinley 31,005, Bryan 26,190, Palmer 1,132.

Three hundred and seventy election districts out of 1,392 in this city give McKinley 37,159, Bryan 31,547, Palmer 1,356.

One hundred and thirty districts outside of New York and Brooklyn give McKinley, 24,652; Bryan, 15,180; Palmer 96. The same districts in 1892 gave Harrison, 19,809; Cleveland, 16,696.

One hundred and eighty-seven districts outside of New York and Brooklyn give McKinley 32,627; Bryan, 19,252; Palmer, 182. The same districts in 1892 gave Harrison 26,805; Cleveland, 21,400.

Four hundred and sixty election districts out of 1,392 in this city give Black 43.275; Porter, 41,995.

Two hundred and thirty-five districts outside of New York and Brooklyn give Black 35,911; Porter, 24,585. The same districts in 1894 gave Morton 32,912; Hill 22,365.

Returns received by the United Associated Presses up to 7.15 a. m. indicate that McKinley has carried New York state by upwards of 275,000 plurality.

KENTUCKY.

Louisville, November 4.—Eminence, the first precinct of Kentucky to report, gives McKinley 246, Bryan 191, a big republican gain.

Eight of twelve precincts in Boyle county show net republican gain of 123.

Returns so far are meagre. In eastern and central Kentucky republicans have made gains. Davidson, republican, for congress in the Eighth district, looks like a winner. Silver men have made gains in southern Kentucky.

Fourteen precincts in Jefferson county give McKinley a majority of 453, showing republican gains.

Fifty precincts in Kentucky shows a gain of 500 for McKinley. Frankfort gives McKinley a plurality of 199, a republican gain of 545.

W. B. Haldeman, of the national democratic executive committee, says at this hour, 7 o'clock, all indications are that McKinley has carried Kentucky. The silverites concede Louisville to McKinley by 10,000.

MICHIGAN.

Detroit, Mich., November 4.—Returns from this city and state are coming in slowly. Hudson and Lewanee counties shows a republican gain of 53. Towns in Osceola county casting three-fourths of the votes show a republican gain of 111. The town of Stanton and four townships in Montcalm county show a heavy democratic gain.

Twenty-one precincts out of 111 in Detroit gave McKinley 3,369; Bryan 2,766.

Ann Harbor city shows a republican gain of 650 over 1892.

Returns show republican gains. The republican state central committee claim the state by between 50,000 and 100,000 plurality and that republicans will be elected in all congressional districts except the Third and Tenth. The democratic committee dispute these claims and say Bryan will carry the state by a small plurality.

IOWA.

Des Moines, Ia., November 4.—The heavy vote in Iowa counts very slowly. Scattering returns are chiefly from rural districts, where the republicans expected to be weakest, indicate that the state republican committees claim of 75,000 plurality for McKinley will be bettered and 100,000 seems likely to be reached.

Secretary Traynor of the republican committee, at 8 o'clock claims the state by 80,000. The democratic committee refuses to make a statement, claiming the returns are too meagre. The republican committee claims to have elected all the eleven congressman in Iowa, but no returns have been received as yet from the second and sixth, which are the closest districts.

IOWA.

Des Moines, Ia., November 4.—The Register, republican, claims that Iowa will give McKinley over 50,000 plurality and elect an entire republican congressional delegation.

Chicago, November 4.—Chairman Curry democratic state central committee, of Iowa, says reports are very favorable for democratic success in Iowa and with showing made in Des Moines and Polk county will carry the state by upwards of 25,000.

The Leader, independent, however, estimates McKinley's plurality in Iowa at 59,000.

New York, Nov. 4.—Returns received to-day and to-night by the United Associated Presses reduce the doubtful states to two—California and North Dakota. Washington, Wyoming, Kansas and [illegible] the states which were in doubt last night, are transferred to the Bryan column, and Delaware, Oregon, South Dakota, Indiana and Kentucky are placed in the McKinley column. The vote in Kentucky is close, but advices indicate that the state is Republican by a small plurality. Delaware and Oregon are also close states, but are apparently carried by McKinley.

The later news from California and North Dakota is that in the precincts so far counted McKinley leads, but the margin of votes is so small that both states should be still classed as doubtfull. The latest returns indicate that the electoral vote of the following states will be cast for McKinley:

California	9
Connecticut	6
Delaware	3
Illinois	24
Indiana	15
Iowa	13
Kentucky	13
Maine	6
Maryland	8
Massachusetts	15
Michigan	14
Minnesota	9
New Hampshire	4
New Jersey	10
New York	36
North Dakota	3
Ohio	23
Oregon	4
Pennsylvania	26
Rhode Island	4
South Dakota	4
Vermont	4
West Virginia	6
Wisconsin	12
Total	277

THE RESULT IN OLD CENTRE

The Republicans Have Much Cause To Rejoice.

A GREAT REPUBLICAN VICTORY

McKinley and Hobart Have 394 Majority—Harrison Kline Elected County Treasurer—Also Two Commissioners, Two Auditors, Coroner And County Surveyor.

The making of a president, however solemn it may be in the abstrac was celebrated in Bellefonte Tuesday in a wild delirium of enthusiasm. During the day there was an absolute calm ordinary events forebore to happen everything seeming to stand in fevered expectation of the elections result. But once darkness fell how different! By 7 o'clock the great crowds began to assemble along the prominent thoroughfares eager to hear the first bit of news. At 7.30 High and Allegheny streets were crowded and at about 8.15 the great demonstration had begun and it was such as was never before witnessed in Bellefonte. Gray bearded veterans who had cast their first vote way back in the forty's shuffled aimlessly through the throngs too much astonished to give expression to their surprise. It would be useless to attempt to describe this crowd. There was little boys, young men and old men. There was fantastics drunks, madmen bands and drum corps; but above all there was noise. There were horns till you couldn't rest, cow bells, tin pans, gongs, revolver shots and demons—ghosts from lusty lungs, till finally one had to shriek outloud to hear himself think. The crowds were good natured. There was much pushing shoving, squeezing and jamming, but no one seemed to mind it. There was no fighting and little cause for police interference anywhere. Bryan shouters got lost early in the evening. However, they kept up their spirits as long as possible; Although the returns of the county are slow in coming in republican county chairman, William Gray, claims the county for McKinley and Hobart by about 400 majority. W. C. Arnold for congress by 1500 over Col. J. L. Spangler in the district beside the election of Harrison Kline for treasurer, Abram V. Miller for sheriff and two commissioners that they are certain of. They concede the election of Robert Foster democratic to legislature. As there was considerable cutting done on both sides the exact result is hard to determine.

The election boards were very slow sending in returns to-day, so that we are unable to give them in full in this issue. Below we give as many as we were able to obtain in time for publication.

LATER—Word reaches us that the democrats have carried the county by a small majority with the exception of treasurer.

LATER.

The election is over and the people of old Centre can settle down to work. A new era of prosperity will dawn over our land. Those two grand statesmen, McKinley and Hobart are elected. Protection and Sound Money have triumphed and the Nation's honor is safe.

I Crow for Arnold!

THE STORY OF MAG.

Just above this little village there is a place known as lost Creek waterfall. The name is not specially a romantic one, but it has at least the merit of describing the place which it designates. Lost Creek it a typical mountain stream that comes roaring, brawling down the mountain until it reaches a certain high cliff, over which it plunges in a graceful, quivering column. It throws up a shower of silvery spray from the rocks below, but instead of flowing on down the surface of the mountain, it plunges into a dark, small mouthed, subterranean cavern and it is all verity "lost" to human sight, as the name implies. Occasionally a wayfarer will throw a rock inside to listen to the thud, thud, as it seems to bound from ledge to ledge into the awful darkness of the earth's interior. Almost half a mile farther down the mountain the stream emerges from its underground course as abruptly as it disappeared. There are vague rumors that soldiers hard pressed by their foes, traversed this awful passageway during the dark days of the war, but these are only rumors, and no one cares by actual test to prove or disprove their possibility.

Only one person is really known to have passed through this journey, and that one brought no news to its mysteries. The lips were sealed forever, and the eyes, unwavering, stared up at the sun above them. The memory of the awful exit gives the subterranean passageway a horror deeper than its own, but the self engrossing heroism of the entrance gives the waterfall a grandeur greater than that of its rocks, purer than the snowy whiteness of its foam and more soul refreshing than the coolness of its spray.

Tom Houston was one of the pleasantest, most industrious young farmers on that slope of Cumberland mountain, and Mag Lassiter was one of the wildest, most worthless of the mountain belles. The neighbors all said a great deal of good about Tom and very little of bad, beyond the fact that he was rather easily influenced. The best that could be said about Mag was that she was pretty and full of life, and that she generally stuck to her friends through thick and thin—as long as she cared to.

As to the evil said about her, there was almost no end to it. The whisperings that connected her name with certain moonshining operations could hardly be included under this head, for public opinion on the mountains in those days was far from unanimous in declaring such things evil. Far more serious were the rumors that she had used the powers of her beauty to lure numerous young men on to destruction. Many rather serious misdeeds were supposed to have their origin with her influence, but nothing definite was ever known about them. When she first began to make friends with Tom Houston, everybody said that no good could come of it. Several of the older men and women took it upon themselves to warn Tom, but he refused to be warned. As usual, the voice of youth, life and beauty had more influence than the voice of old age, experience and ugliness.

The crash came sooner than anyone expected. One night at a dance Tom called out the two Dickens boys, and, seemingly in cold blood, shot them dead. The Dickens boys were members of one of the most prominent families on the mountain, and the excitement which followed the killing was intense. Everybody remembered that Mag had formerly had a fierce quarrel with the elder of the boys, and he was the only young man on the mountain who had successfully resisted her wiles. Everybody suspected that the murder was instigated by Mag, but nobody knew it. Only Tom Houston could know it, and it was recognized by all that Tom would never tell. Besides, after the killing, Tom had fled and was now somewhere hiding.

There was reason to believe that he had not gone far away, but it was hard to find him. The mountain was thoroughly aroused. The prominence of the murdered men and the cold bloodedness of the deed made everyone feel an interest in bringing the slayer to justice. Pickets were scattered in a line that surrounded the whole slope of the mountain where Tom was supposed to be hiding, but still the task was no easy one. The mountain side at that place was so full of deep ravines and holes in the rocks that a dozen men might easily elude anything but the most careful search. Still it was only a question of time.

One evening several days after the killind, Mag walked into the sheriff's office at Jasper. Without even glancing at the group of loungers hanging about as usual she looked defiantly at the sheriff and addressed him in harsh strident tones, very much unlike those in which she generally spok

"I've come to tell you uns that your men has got Tom Houston penned safe an sound," she said. "Thar ain't no possible way out fer him. I guess you already knowed that, though."

"I sorter guessed it," replied the sheriff as he chuckeled and looked around in some uncertainity.

"Ef you think you'll have an easy job to take him, you're mistaken, though," continued Mag. "That mounting is ez full of little ole gullies an holes as an old kitchen is of rate holes, an I don't reckon any man in Tennessee knows 'em any man better than Tom does. It may be a month before you ketch him. Besides, Tom's got shootin irons, an he knows how to use 'em too. There'll be the devil to pay before you take him unless you get help."

"Help?" repeated the sheriff rather vaguely. "Ain't I got half the men on the mounting to help me now? What kind of help do you mean?"

"Gimme $50, an I'll take you right where he is to-morrow mornin, an I'll guarantee he don't fire nary shot neither."

The sheriff uttered a low, long drawn whistle of surprise, and the loungers about the office exchanged remarks in an under tone. They had always known "that ga was no good, but darned it they'd ever have believed she was low down enough to get a fellow into trouble an then sell his life to the officers for $50, darned if they would,"

"There's some conditions about it," continued Mag haughtily and without heeding these comments. "Them $50 must be in the hand in bills in the mornin before I budge any step o the way. After I take you where he is you must give me two minutes by the watch to talk to him before you do anything. Then, if he tries to run, you must give me at last 50 yards start before you begin shootin. ain't a-goin to see him shot down like a dog without no chance at all. After it's all over I'm goin to leave this here God forsaken country myself, an you've got to promise me that nobody'll try to foller or to see which way I've gone."

"I don't blame her for that last part," whispered a bystander, winking significantly.

The sheriff thought the matter over. He went out and talked to several of the friends of the murdered men about it. All agreed that Mag's plan, though an unspeakable base on her part, might result in saving several weeks of time and possible several human lives. Perhaps it was the cheapest way out of the difficulty. Old man Dickens readily agreed to furnish the money. The result of the consultation was that Mag was informed that her terms were accepted.

The next morning, before sunrise, when Mag met the sheriff's posse at the meeting point agreed upon the evening before, it was noticed that she had a big, black bruise under her right eye.

"Have you been in a scrap, Mag?" asked one of the posse, with a clumsy attempt at jocularity.

"I seen Tom last night," replied the girl with a forced laught, "an he whacked me in the eye with his fist an cussed me for getting him into trouble, as he said. I didn't mind the lick—but the cussin."

Here the girl's voice quavered, and those nearest to her thought they saw the glimmer of a tear in her eye.

"I soon made it all right with him though," she continued, regaining herself [illegible] "Bo[illegible] tell him what a nice lot of visitors I was going to bring him this morning. He, he!"

There was some black looks exchanged and some remarks made in an undertone as to the baseness of the girl's treachery, but she deigned no reply until she came within hearing of the Lost Creek waterfall, to which reference has been made before.

"Call in all your pickets," she exclaimed imperiously. "Tom's mighty nigh here somewheres, an you uns is such pore shots that you'd better have a lot of men ready to shoot,"

The pickets had spent the night before on the mountain as they had also spent several nights preceding. Word was sent out, and all of them were summoned down to the spot in question.

"Now stay where you are an remember about them two minutes you promised to give us—for our last interview, you know, He, he!"

With these words Mag cautiously advanced until within about 50 yards of the fall. Then she stepped out of sight between several large bowlders. The posse grasped their rifles and waited in silence. The sheriff held in hand a watch with which to tell the passage of the two minutes.

"Do you reckon he's been hidin all this time in that hole?" asked one man in a low whisper.

"What do you reckon she's a-saying to him?" asked another.

Then all was quiet save for the "tick, tick" of the sheriff's watch. When the time lacked but a few seconds of being out, a woman's figure hurriedly glided from behind the rocks and hastened up the mountain side. The left hand pressed a handkerchief to the eyes, but the right hand pointed backward toward the rocks. Scarcely a moment later a man's figure emerged and made a wild dash for Lost Creek waterfall. There was no mistaking the apparel. It was the same suit of well worn "butternut" jeans and the same old brown peaked slouch hat that Tom Houston had worn when he disappeared. Perhaps it was the recollection of their promise, or perhaps it was only the suddenness of the apparition; at any rate not a shot was fired until the figure made a final leap before disappearing into the deep, dark hole into which the water fell. Just as it was poised in midair half a dozen rifles rang out loud and clear. High above the multitudinous mountain echoes which they awoke a wild, shrill scream arose. Every man in the posse rushed pellmell to the black hole, but when they peered into its depths nothing was to be seen and nothing was to be heard save the roar of the fall and the swish of the foam.

"Those rocks on that side would give a fellow plenty of foothold," remarked one man to the sheriff. "Air yo' a-goin in?"

"Naw!" answered that official. "I ain't hankering to run afoul of Tom Houston's shootin' irons in the dark."

However, he put his face in at the dark opening and shouted, "Surrender!" though his voice was well nigh drowned by that of the water. Then very cautiously he pushed a big revolver into the darkness and pulled the trigger. A long, reverberating, cavernous bellow was the only response.

"Jeeminy!" he ejaculated. "It sounds like a million of devils might live down there."

Then a sudden thought seemed to strike him.

"See here," he shouted. "About half of you fellows run down the mounting—quick, and stand guard at the place where Lost crick comes out again."

His meaning was comprehended in an instant, and about half the posse dashed away to execute his orders.

"So that was Mag's little game, was it?" continued the sheriff. "She thought I'd call in my picket lines and then Tom could slip out the lower end of this hole—guess nobody knows it better than him, and she'd have her $50 besides. She was sharp to get her money beforehand. I wonder where she is now."

She was nowhere to be seen. It seemed that during the tumult she had slipped away unobserved. The sheriff made no attempt to follow her; perhaps he remembered his promise not to do so.

"It don't make no difference," he remarked. "We've got Tom in a hole this time, sure, with both ends of the hole guarded. It's only a question of a little time now. If we don't drive him out, we can easily starve him out. I think some fellow winged him when he jumped, anyhow."

That night three [illegible] in their hands stood guard at the lower opening of the underground passageway of Lost creek, and three stood at the upper one. The next day they were relieved by others, and so it continued for a full week. Tom Houston did not appear. One afternoon at the end of this period Tom's big peaked slouch hat floated out into the sunlight at the lower entrance. The watchers examined it with all the eagerness of intense excitement.

Something else is goin to float out pretty soon now," exclaimed one in an awestruck whisper.

Sure enough, not half an hour later, "something else" did float out.

"Look out! It's coming," exclaimed the first one who saw it.

As it reached the first faint rays of daylight the watchers peering in could recognize the well worn suit of "butternut" jeans which Tom Houston had been used to wear. When it reached the full light of day they saw that a wealth of soft brown hair had fallen back from the marble brow of a woman. They had to take a second glance to realize that it was Mag. The old, radiant beauty was unconquered in death, but the old look of haughty defiance was gone, and in its place was an expression of tender restfulness that was new to them. The only sign of a struggle was the black welt on the face where Tom had hit her when she went to him to unfold her plan for saving his life. As the watchers gazed at the placid features the serious details of her self-sacrifice came to them one at a time.

"I bet she had him hid in this place all along," whispered one. The only trouble was that the lines was drawed so tight around that she couldn't get him out."

"She changed clo'es with him mighty quick that evenin," said another.

"Tom slipped off with her clothes on, but I bet she had some others hid out somewhe es for him to put on. I wouldn't doubt but she gave him them $50 to go on. Lord only ould tell where he is by this time—in Halifax, mebby."

"She thought she could get down here and slip out before we'd think to head her off. She might a done it, too, if some fellow hadn't winged her when she jumped," said one of the guards, lifting her right arm. It seemed to have been shattered by a rifle ball.

"She was a powerful sinful woman," said another.

"Yes, but she loved Tom Houston an awful sight," said the third.

And in the lapse and flash of the water against the rocks it seemed as if one could almost hear the voice of Him who said:

"Her sins, which are many, are forgiven, for she loved much."

Inviting to Massacre.

London, Oct., 31.—The Constantinople correspondent of the "Daily News" telegraps that the situation there is causing the gravest anxiety in diplomatic circles, which are discussing the deposition of the Sultan. The statement of the Porte that no forced levy has been made for money with which to buy arms and that the trade which was construed to be an order for such a levy was merely an appeal to Turkish subjects to voluntarily contribute to a fund for the armament and equipment of the imperial troops, is recognized as a thinly veiled invitation to Mussulmans to attack Christians. This cannot fail to bring about massacres in the provinces, even if the guard ships prevent the killing of Christians in Constantinople.

The Sheik-ul-Islam, head of the Mohammedan faith, through whom alone can the Sultan be legally deposed, remains at the Yildiz Kiosk, the Sultan's residence, nominally as his guest, but really a prisoner.

A Poor Man's Hogs Fed Broken Glass.

One of the most dastardly outrages we have heard for a long time was that perpetrated upon James T. Gregg a poor but honest and industrious citizen of this place. A few days ago Mr. Gregg lost two large hogs which would weigh nearly 300 lbs apiece. As hog cholera has been raging for the last month or two in some parts of the county, he thought at first that, was what ailed his hogs but they did not show any of the symptoms of that disease or in fact any other. He called in a veterinary surgeon to examine the animals to find out if possible what caused their death. On being opened it was discovered that the hogs had been fed broken glass, and that their entrails were literally cut to pieces. This is a penitentiary offense if the villian who did the deed can be found out

The Case of the Castles.

London, October 30.—Mr. Bernard Abrahams, solicitor for Mr. and Mrs. Walter N. Castle, of San Francisco, who are under 40,000 pounds bail pending their trial on a charge of shoplifting, had a conference to-day with Mr. J. R. Roosvelt, first secretary of the United States embassy and informed him that the chain of evidence in the case of the Castles had been completed. Sir Edward Clark and Sir Frank Lockwood, counsel for Mr. and Mrs. Castle will meet Mr. Abrahams on Monday to perfect the final arrangements for the trial, which take place at the Clerkenwell sessions, whose sittings will begin on November 2. The physical and mental condition of Mrs. Castle has become much worse since her last hearing in the great Marlboro street police court.

Defied the Chief of Police.

Williamsport, Pa. Nov. 1.—A jeering mob of 1,000 persons kept Chief of Police Wise hemmed in on Court street for two hours last night. A great crowd gathered after the political demonstrations and the chief attempted to drive his horse on to the sidewalk to break the jam. The crowd surrounded him and for two hours hurled all kinds of epithets at him. The police were powerless to disperse them and the mayor ordered a hose company to be prepared to suppress the mob by a stream of water. At midnight the crowd dispersed without the firemen being called into service.

The Adelphi Dance.

The Adelphi club of the State College will entertain next Friday evening, by giving a dance to their friends at the Inn. Lattan and Chappells orchestra of Williamsport will furnish the music. The patronesses will be Mrs. Geo. W. Atherton, Mrs. Wilbur Reeder, Miss H. A. McElwain, Mrs. J. P. Jackson, Mrs. John N. Lane and Mrs. H. H. Stock. The club's committee on the affair comprises Mr. A. L. Cromish, Mr. R. F. Keller Jr., Mr. C. W Hardt and Mr. W. H. Teas.

—The poorest boys and girls in this world are those who have never been taught to work, and there are thousands upon thousands of such. Parents do their children a great wrong if they neglect this part of their education. Every son and daughter should be taught to earn his or her own living. Whether parents are rich or poor they owe an industrial training to their offspring. It is well to remember that the wheel of fortune rolls swiftly around, and that the rich man of to-day may become the poor man of to-morrow.

BROKE THE BABY'S NECK.

A Hammock Not Securely Fastened Threw John Soback Down.

John Soback, Jr., aged ten months was killed yesterday morning by the hammock in which he was laying falling from its fastening. His parents live in Collier township, near Rosevale station, on the Pittsburg, Chartiers and Youghiogheny railroad. The hammock was swung in the bed room at the foot of the parents bed. The little one cried and the mother swung the hammock. Just as she turned away one nail pulled out of the wall and the boy fell on his head The mother picked him up, and he died in her arms. The neck had been broken.

Concerning Appendicitis.

It is not many years since appendicitis, as a disease, was practically unknown. The doctors smart as they are, were unfamiliar with it, and doubtless many diseases and deaths attributed to other causes were due to the now well known appendix. One of our leading physicians, who had operated upon five hundred cases appendicitis has by his investigations and skill succeeded in robbing the mysterious ailment of much of its terrors, and there is room for hope that in addition to the discovery that surgical science properly directed has robbed appendicitis of its terror, such medical treatment will be discovered and will lead to the dispensing with the surgeon's knife.—Philadelphia Star.

The Republicans Rally.

One of the most enthusiastic meetings that has taken place in Philipsburg during the present campaign was the Republican rally at the opera house Friday evening. The place was crowded with an audience of interested people, among whom were many ladies; and the most earnest and respected attention was accorded the speakers.

Rev. John A. Hawkins presided at the meeting, and after making a neat little speech, introduced the speakers, the first of whom was Hon. W. C. Arnold of DuBois, candidate for Congress, who was followed by General J. P. S. Gobin of Lebanon. Both gentlemen made telling speeches, discussing the issues generally, but making a specialty of the free coinage question, and presenting strong argument in opposition to the system.

Hon. P. E. Womelsdorf of that city, candidate for assembly, was introduced at the close of the speeches made by the distinguished visitors, and was greeted with almost deafening applause. He talked about five or ten minutes, and as he took his seat the enthusiasm was intense.

Robbed Two Aged Ladies.

Two masked men broke into the house of Misses Lucinda and Mary Graham in Potter county a few nights ago. After a struggle they bound and gagged the two women, and searched the house. They found $115 tied up in an old stocking and left the dwelling without releasing the tied women. They were found the next morning half dead from fright by a passing farmer. The sisters are over 60 years of age.—Lock Haven Democrat.

comes to stay

There is more than one food which will cause the body to increase in weight. A free supply of sugar will do this; so will the starchy foods; cream, and some other fats. But to become fleshy, and yet remain in poor health, is not what you want. Cod-liver oil increases the weight because it is a fat-producing food. But it does far more than this. It alters, or changes, the processes of nutrition, restoring the normal functions of the various organs and tissues.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil with hypophosphites, is pure cod liver in a digested condition. So that when a person gains in weight from taking Scott's Emulsion, it is because of two things: First, the oil has acted as a fat-producing food; and, second, it has restored to the body a healthy condition. Such an improvement is permanent; it comes to stay.

FASHIONABLE EVENT.

A Rare Treat for Bellefonte Theatre Goers.

As heretofore announced in the columns of the DAILY NEWS, Manager Garman, of the Opera House, has secured Prof. E. M. Day, the Modern Hypnotist who opened his engagement here Tuesday evening Prof. Day comes to Bellefonte highly commended by the press, clergy and medical profession. His entertainments are of a refined and highly pleasing character, and seldom fail to draw large and fashionable audiences. The modern hypnotist selects his subjects from the audience, and the volunteers who go on the stage are made up of the best class of residents of the various towns and cities which he visits, among them being members of the medical profession, dentists, lawyers, clerks, etc. Mr. Frederick A. J. Dunwick, manager of Professor Day, who is a guest of Manager Garman, at the Garman House, would be pleased to meet anyone desiring to try hypnotism, with a view of participating in the entertainment, and will explain to those who are not acquainted with this mysterious power what is required.

Fun, fast and furious, reigns supreme at Prof. Day's performances. The program is changed nightly, and new subjects are expected to participate each evening during the engagement. It will be a fashionable event, and amusement seekers may rest assured of being highly entertained during Prof. Day's stay here. He will present some of the most sensational acts ever witnessed.

Tuesday evening, the opening of Prof. Day's engagement here, will be ladies' night. On this occasion ladies will be admitted free when accompanied by an escort with one paid admission ticket.

Prof. Day closed a very successful engagement at Jersey Shore Saturday evening, and the seating capacity of the house was tested at every performance.

Manager Dunwick desires to secure the services of a first-class soprano singer, who can render "Ben Bolt." If they can, and are willing to be hypnotised by Prof. Day, this song will be rendered some evening during the week—the singer, while under the hypnotic influence, being given the suggestion that she is Trilby.

Popular prices: 10, 20 and 30 cts. will prevail, and we predict crowded houses every evening.

BUCKNELL, 10; STATE, 0.

Great Game of Football on Saturday.

For the first time in four years the proud white and blue of Pennsylvania State College was trailed in the dust by their old rivals, and the "Yah, Yah; Yu," of Bucknell arose in a glad pæan of victory. Ten to one was the score of Saturday's foot ball game, the finest exhibition of the sport ever seen in this city.

The crowd was a good one, too; Ribbon bedecked enthusiasts were present to the number of five or six thousand, and the scenes when one or the other of the teams made a score or a telling play, were of the wildest enthusiasm. Notwithstanding the high feeling conceeded to exist between the two Colleges there were no disorderly demonstrations by the rooters, with one exception. During the intermission a State flag was raised in the thick of the Bucknell contingent which was blanked on the western bleachers. A commotion was raised at once, with the result that the bearer was compelled to lower the obnoxious colors. The State adherents along the opposite side lines perceived and re ented this humiliation, and swarming across the field demanded that the banner be hoisted. The crowd was already beginning to mix, when the police interfered in a body. The outcome of it was that the flag was allowed to wave; a thorn in the side to the Bucknellians, and an inspiration for taunting cheers from State. Apart from this incident, the game was remarkably free from brawls and wrangles, which harmless and picturesque as they are, are an almost indispensable accompaniment to intercollegiate field contests.

As to the game itself, State were completely outplayed and Bucknell's honors were most fairly won. Bucknell certainly had some advantage as to weight and State were more or less handicapped by the presence of new men, but the fact remains as evident from the play that the former were more skilled in tactics and their team organization was superior. When this was taken into consideration together with Bucknell's desperate desire to stem the tide of defeat, it was not surprising that the game went as it did.

Bunnell was the star player for the down river university. His tackling was of the highest order and his dodging runs were always productive of gains, and a beautiful spurt for 40 yards, the longest in the game, capped the climax of his good work Catterall came next in order of merit. His punting was infallible and effective, while he never failed to gain in his plunges through the centre. Nattress did well at passing and tackling and Captain Cober made some of the finest tackles of the game.

A feature of State's play was Pennsylvania's famous "tandem" interference, in which the guards drop back and three men in line smash open a hole for the runner close behind them. This was repeatedly worked and with good results, though frustrated several times by Cober and Jennings. State's aggressive work, however was characterized by excusable fumbling, Stiess' juggling with the ball on the kick-off in the second half undoubtedly costing a touchdown and goal. Then, too, the failure of the forwards to protect Hayes when punting very nearly resulted in further scoring. But when all things are considered the Centre county boys played a magnificent up-hill game.

The Dunsmore brothers and Hayes carried off the honors for State College. Captain Dunsmore made some pretty end runs and the stalwart tackle's dashes through the line were simply irresistable. Hayes' centre rushes were fine. his punting first class, and on at least two occasions he prevented touchdowns by his sure tackling. Curtin and Mechesney also got into the plays with commendable celerity. "Bill" Murray made his presence felt at tackle.

THE GAME IN DETAIL.

State won the toss. Bucknell taking the south goal, and Hayes kicked off to the yard line. Bunnell returned and State, being unable to advance, surrendered the ball on the 30-yard line. Bunnell made 10 and several more rushes brought the pigskin to middlefield, where it was lost on downs. State lost the ball on a fumble and immediately regained it on a foul. Hayes gained 8 through left guard and J. A. Dunsmore 5 around left end. The gaining then ceased and Hayes punted 40 yards out of bounds. Catterall punted 50 yards, a splendid kick, and Hayes soon returned. Then Bunnell, under fine interference, skirted left end for 40 yards. Catterall punted on the third down, the ball going into touch. It was taken out to the 25-yard line and Captain Dunsmore made 10 through left tackle. On the next rush Jennings broke through and tackled Curtin for a loss. J. A. Dunsmore gained 10 and then 4 on a criss cross. In the next play the ball was fumbled and Cober fell on it. Cober made 6 and Catterall two gains of 4 each and Bunnell cleared the end for 10, Hayes who tackled being the last man to pass. Catteral again made 8 through the centre and Bunnell was sent around left 20 yards for a touchdown. Catterall missed an easy goal. Score 4 to 0. Time 21 minutes.

Catterall returned Hayes' kick off to the 45 yard line. J. G. Dunsmore and Hayes attacked the centre for 5 each and Stiess made 8 around right end. Captain Dunsmore made a small gain and the half ended with the ball on Bucknell's 25 yard line.

Bunnell kicked off to Stiess, who fumbled and it was Bucknell's ball. Bunnell ran the end for 25, being thrown by Hayes, and Catterall crashed through the centre for 10. Several centre plays brought the ball to the 7-yard line, and after Thomas gained 5, Cober carried it over for a touchdown. A goal resulted. Score 10 to 0. Time 3 minutes.

Catterall returned Hayes' kick-off and Stiess, catching, made a nice gain. J. A. Dunsmore made a good run for 12, being downed by Nattress. State were given 10 yards for off-side play. J. A. Dunsmore made 8, Mechesney 2, Curtin 2 and Hayes 3, and the ball was lost on downs on Bucknell's 5-yard line. Catterall punted and Cober fell on the ball on the next play. Mechesney tackled Bunnell for a loss of 8 yards, and Catterall punted. Hayes made 8 through the centre and the ball was lost on downs. Catterall made 8 and State regained the ball. Sellers twice worked the quarter back kick for gains of 5 yards. Curtin made 15, J. A. Dunsmore 7, Hayes 6, J. G. Dunsmore 6, and the ball was again lost to Bucknell on downs, and the latter's 10-yard line. Catterall punted 45-yards. Two punts by Hayes were blocked for losses of 8 and 10 yards, and it was Bucknall's ball. Bunnell made 7 and Catterall punted to State's 5-yard line. Time was then called.

Line-up and summary:

J. J. Woodman, Secretary, Paw Paw, Van Buren county, Mich.

N. J. Bachelder, Concord, N. H.

J. H. Brigham, ex-officio, Delta, Fulton county, Ohio.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY,
514 F Street, Northwest.
WASHINGTON, D. C., SEPT. 24, 1896.

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER:—In accordance with the provisions of its Constitution and the resolution adopted at the Session of 1895, the Thirtieth Session of the National Grange of the Patrons of Husbandry will be held in the city of Washington, D. C., commencing on "the first Wednesday after the second Monday in November" (11th) at eleven o'clock a. m.

Accommodations for the National Grange have been secured at the National Hotel (as headquarters) at the rate of $2 per day, including heat and light.

Members of the order visiting Washington during the session, and friends accompanying them, will be entitled to the above hotel rates on presenting a certified card to the hotel officials from the Secretary of the National Grange.

Arrangements have also been made for visiting Patrons and their friends, who prefer to stop in private families or on the European plan, which they can have by applying by letter in advance to the National Secretary, at the following rates: Rooms, 50; each meal, from 20 to 50c, or by the day or week, in private families, for $1 25 a day or $6 per week.

By order of the Executive Committee.

JOHN TRIMBLE,
Secretary National Grange.

THE country's wheat crop has been cornered by a western syndicate representing more than $150,000,000, and the result is the cereal is going up like a rocket. But the producer will gain little by the advance as it has mostly gone into the markets. Now the syndicate proposes to squeeze millions out of the consumers for the benefit of monopolies. It is the old story over again of Shylock and his greed. Bread-winners catch it this time.

CUTTINGS of all kinds root better in sand than in soil. Those of heliotropes, coleus and other plants of a very tender nature require a warmer temperature than geraniums. Indeed a temperature suited to heliotrope cutting is liable to kill a geranium.

Death of Mrs. Mary A. Robbins.

Mrs. Mary A. Robbins of Sheffield Alabama, born Oct. 18th. 1835, died November 5th, 1896 aged 61 years and 18 days. Mrs. Robbins will be remembered by her many friends in this city, as having visited Mrs. H. H. Schreyer of this place last June, in company with her daughter, Miss Bertha. Although death comes like a thief at night, in this case it was no wholly unexpected, as its victim had been gradually failing in health for some time, having received a stroke of paralysis one year ago last Thanksgiving. from which she never fully recovered.

She was a most exemplary christian woman and leaves no fear in the minds of those who knew her, that she was not ready to meet her Creator, for her life had been faith in him and she bided her time with that comforting assurance that every soul baptized of the spirit is borne up with.

She is survived by her husband and the following children, Mrs. J. V. Bell, of Philadelphia; Mrs. H. H. Schreyer of this place; Bertha and Claude at home, her only son John having died 6 years ago.

Necessary to a choice 224. Without California and North Dakota, Major McKinley apparently has 265 votes, or 41 more than is necessary to elect.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Telegrams received this afternoon by Acting Chairman Payne, of the republican national cammittee from the disputed states give the committee assurance to claim 277 electoral votes sure for McKinley. The estimates sent by state chairman were as follows:

South Dakota, 3,500; Kentucky, 5,000; West Virginia, 14,000; Oregon, 3,500; California, 6,000.

A Successful Hypnotist.

Professor Day the modern Hypnotist opened his engagement at the Garman Opera House last night. Owing to the election the attendance was not large. Prof. Day had some trouble at first to get subjects from the audience. He had to begin on some of the men who were carriers with him. But finally eight or ten walked up on the stage from the audience and consented to be hypnotized. Prof. Day soon had them under his control and fully demonstrated to those present that he was master of his art. While under this influence the subjects were made do many very amusing feats. The most startling one was the putting of a subject in the total cateleptic state. He was then placed on the back of two chairs and while in this position three men sat upon his form. The producing of anaesthesic by means of Hypnotism was fully illustrated, and while in that condition a hat pin was thrust in the subjects arm by Dr. Locke, no pain resulting. Every one who attended last night were well pleased with the entertainment. Several subjects have consented to go on to-night, and amusement seekers are promised a rich treat. Don't fail to attend.

ATTEMPTS TO KILL A GIRL.

Susan Travis Deliberately Shot Last Evening.

DuBois, Pa., Nov. 2.—What seems to have been an attempt at murder took place last evening about 8 o'clock out at the Gillnug school house, in Sandy township, Burley Ferrier, a son of Benjamin Ferrier, lives close to the school house, and last evening as he was sitting with his wife and her sister, Susan Travis, of Reynoldsville, around the lamp, a gun was fired through the door and the bullet passed through Miss Travis's right side. The door stood open, as the evening was not cold and the room had been made uncomfortably warm in getting the evening meal, and while sitting there they heard a footfall on the doorstep, and almost the same instant the report of a gun, the bullet taking effect as stated. It is not known who stepped up to the door, as the party immediately disappeared in the darkness, and the attention of Ferrier was given to the wounded girl. Dr. James Spackmad was called to see Miss Travis and found that the bullet in passing through her side, had penetrated her liver, but the injury need not be considered fatal.

ABOUT KAISER.

A Story Concerning Him Which Comes From Huntingdon.

Special to the Altoona Tribune.

Huntingdon, Pa., November 1.—In connection with the detention of Charles O. Kaiser in the jail at Norristown, charged with murder of his wife a few days ago, there is a story in circulation here that has some significence. About seven months ago, or in March last, a company of young men, seven in number, were temporarily located here soliciting orders for crayon portraits. Kaiser was among the number, as was also a young man named F. Loeb. The entire party boarded at the private house of Mrs. Dr. Ballantyne. Kaiser was looked upon as an individual full of schemes, but so far as his outward conduct was concerned there was no room for suspicion. Loeb, however, related a little circumstance to a Huntingdon friend, which, if true, would seem to indicate that Kaiser had been nursing the desire to get away with his wife for a long time.

According to the story told by Loeb it would appear that Kaiser had asked him if he (Loeb) had any desire to make money fast, and without much effort. Naturally Loeb said he wouldn't object to a big sum coming to him without much effort on his part, and he asked how the thing was to be accomplished. Kaiser, who had repeatedly told Loeb that he had married his wife simply for the purpose of gaining control or getting possession of $500 which she had, proposed that the two get Mrs. Kaiser's life insured for a large amount of money and that some time afterward Kaiser would take her boating and when in midstream the boat would be "accidentally" capsized and the money therefore won.

Loeb's present whereabouts are not known by the Huntingdon person to whom this information was divulged. After the departure of the artists from this place they went to Williamsport. Loeb brands Kaiser as a man with a heart black as night.

—Have you witnessed the marvelous performance of Day the Hypnotist. No one in Bellefonte can afford to miss this wonderful performance.

PENNSYLVANIA IN LINE.

The Old Keystone State's Plurality May Exceed 300,000.

Philadelphia, November 4.—Election day was comparatively quiet here. There were the usual number of fights and brawls and some shooting scrapes, but nothing very serious in the way of disturbance. Last night the streets were packed with people watching the returns as they are displayed and the jubilant republicans are turning out with brass bands and flaming torch lights. The interest in the result of the election showed itself here in the preparation to get the returns. Not only the clubs had their private wires, but many citizens had wires run into their houses, and the telephone company sent the news over its wires to all subscribers. Besides, several large halls were leased and an admission was charged, and in every case the halls were filled with expectant people.

Philadelphia, November 4.—McKinley's plurality in Pennsylvania will approach 300,000. Of this Philadelphia contributes about 125,000.

Tioga County—Packer, republican, for congress, 3,000 plurality; Merrick, republican, for senator, 4,000 plurality; Smith and Young, republicans, for representatives, 4,000 plurality.

Montgomery County—Wagner, republican, for congress, 4,700 plurality Barker Eshback, Kratz, Sexton and Teas all republicans, for representatives, each about 4,200 plurality.

Dauphin County—Olmsted, republican, for congress, 7,692 plurality; McCarrell republican, for senator, 7,500 plurality; Heagy, Keen and Keifer, republicans, for representatives, 4,500 each plurality; Kunkle, republican, city district, for representative, 3,200 plurality.

Lackawanna County—Connell, republican, for congress, 1,500 plurality; Farr, Reynolds and Mackey, republicans, are evidently elected to the legislature, but the indications are that Alexander T Connell, republican, has been defeated by H T. Koehler, democrat.

Huntingdon County—Mahon, republican, for congress, 1,900 plurality; Chisholm, republican, for senator, 1,150 plurality; P. M. Lytle and J. S. Bare, republicans, for representatives, each 1,500 plurality.

Snyder County—Mahon, republican for congress, 1,000 plurality; Hummel, republican, for senator, 875 plurality; Herman, republican, for representative, 800 plurality.

Monroe County—Barber, democrat, for congress, 900 plurality; Place, democrat, for representative, 500 plurality.

York County—Probable small democratic plurality. Heavy democratic losses are apparent. York city probably republican by 400 plurality.

Potter County—Packer, republican, for congress, 850 plurality; Merrick, republican, for senator, 900 plurality; Wells, republican, for representative, 800 plurality.

Berks County—Ermentrout, democrat, for congress, 5,000 plurality; Miller, democrat, for senator, 4,500 plurality; Luden and West, republicans, for representatives from Reading, 700 plurality; Spatz, Rhode and Weitle, democrats, are elected from the county by 5,000 plurality.

Bucks County—Wagner, for congress 2,300 plurality; Funk, Rice and Patterson, republicans, for representatives about 2,000 each plurality.

Allegheny County—McKinley will carry the county, including the cities of Pittsburg and Allegheny, by about 40,000 plurality, a republican gain of 25,000. Every republican senatorial and legislative candidate but one and every county officer will have about the same majority.

Poisonous Potatoes

It is not very rare, says the medical writer of the New York Herald's European edition, to see serious accidents happen by poisoning by the use of potatoes where food is supplied by contact, as in schools, prisons and barracks. The evil is due to the process of putrefaction in the potato, which increases the amount of the alkaloid called solanine. The the use of potatoes deteriorated in this way may give rise to troublesome cases of poisoning, characterized by vomiting, diarrhoea, fever, dilated pupils, convultions and profuse sweating. The trouble usually arises from supplied old potatoes which have begun to germanate.

Two Men Killed.

Pottsville, Pa., Nov. 2.—An accident resulting from a singular cause cost the lives of two men and the fatal injury of a third at Packer colliery No. 2, at Girardville, this afternoon. Thomas Welsh, John Hallarin, Joseph Staum and Michael Mack were at work in the mine. Welsh had been engaged in what is known as "robbing" pillars. He had driven a hole in the face of the breast, in which he put his blast. He applied the match to the squib and hastened away for a place of shelter. He had gone but a few feet when a large lump of coal rolled on his foot, pinning him fast to the ground. Momentarily expecting the explosion of the blast he cried for help. The other three men were working near and disregarding the danger to themselves they ran to Welsh's rescue.

They had scarcely reached him when the blast exploded, bringing down with it a mass of coal upon the men. Hallarin and Staum were crushed to death and Welsh fatally injured, while Mack was fortunate in escaping with slight hurts.

Scrofula

"In the spring of 1890 we first noticed a lump Swelling coming on the right side of our six-year-old boy's neck. We consulted our physician. He gave no name for the swelling, but told us to put on a blister. One person told us to use one thing and another another, but nothing proved of any avail. In May, 1891, I purchased a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and the child began taking it. About the middle of July the swelling broke and proved to be scrofula. We gave our son three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and when he had taken this medicine the sore was healed, and the disease has been entirely driven from the system." W. C. ASTOR TRAMP RIVALLED.

His Imitator Sleeps in a Boarding House and Sets Fire to It.

Mrs. Susan Hoffer came here from Centre Hall about three weeks ago, and opened a boarding house at 1127 Twelth avenue. Friday evening a tramp called there for a "hand-out" and he was not pleased with what Miss Hoffer gave him. He observed the house closely, and after bed time came back again, crawled through the coal hole into the cellar made his way upstairs to the most desirable room in the house and, like the famous Astor tramp, went to bed. Some time early Saturday morning he awoke and ransacked the premises for valuables. Chagrined at not finding anything, he went down to the kitchen, poured some oil on the floor and ignited it with a match. Then he left, doubtless going out the front door, which was later found open.

The fire soon filled the house with a thick smoke, which stifled Miss Hoffer and awakened her. She called her mother and J. S. Zolner, a boarder was aroused. He extinguished the blaze after a hole probably four feet in diameter had been burned in the floor. The house is owned by a Hollidaysburg gentleman.—Altoona Times.

Do You Want to be a Martyr?

Probably not! But if you do, try and get the dyspepsia by unwise feeding. Then you'll suffer martyrdom with a vengeance! Some people are martyrs to this complaint from childhood to the grave, suffering from all its attending horrors of heartburn, wind and pain in the stomach, weary slumber and nightmare capricious appetite, nausea, biliousness, leanness and sallowness. No necessity for all this. The complaint obstinate as it is, when the ordinary remedies are brought to bear upon it, invariably yield to the great stomachic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which restores tranquility to the gastric region and nerves, regulates the liver and bowels both of which are disturbed by weakness of the stomach, and promotes appetite and an increase of flesh. That "tocsin of the soul," the dinner bell, when it peals upon the ear, suggests no premonition of dire qualms after a comfortable meal if you have tried a course of the Bitters, which also banishes biliousness rheumatism, nervousness, malaria and kidney trouble.

—The public installation of Rev. Geo. S. Bright, pastor of the Lutheran church of Philipsburg will occur in that place Sunday, Nov, 8th. Dr. Ort, of Springfield, Ohio, and Rev. Edward Everett Hoshour of this city will conduct the service.

JAMES RINE TALKS.

Everybody Knows Him. Everybody Believes Him in Bellefonte.

As you lean back in your chair with your feet on the fender and peruse your evening paper, you must be amazed at the columns devoted to advertising patent medicines the schemes employed to bring the remedies before the readers notice and the ingenuity displayed in wording testimonials so as to make them conform to the advertised claims. The tongue runs glibly over half a column of introductory matter and then as a rule, winds up with the gist of some testimonial received from a sufferer of some malady. Read them carefully and notice this. Chicago and St Louis examples do duty in New York. California residents flit before Maine citizens in regular succession like the connected scenes in a Panorama. Is it not hard to indorse an act performed in some far away hamlet even if embellished with all the adjectives that the Anglo-Saxon language can furnish. Reverse the case and read the testimony of Mr. James Rine of Thomas street. The impression left is convincing; conclusive. Says he: "My trouble in the back started from a slight strain It developed into a urinary difficulty, the most marked being an excessive desire to urinate particularly at night. My back hurt to stoop, to straighten up and if I made any awkward or unthought of move, I always got a reminder in the shape of a sharp, piercing twinge. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills for it at Green's Pharmacy They cured me. I am pleased at the result, for one year of it is as long as any man cares to stand of kidney complaint."

A Blizzard in the West.

Huron, S. D., Nov 2.—The wind and snowstorm was more severe over the Northern and Western sections of the state than was at first supposed. Many ranchman on the upper Missouri and Cheyennne River ranges will suffer heavy losses in cattle. Snow is reported from 12 to 15 inches deep and badly drifted. No telegraph communication from here West to Pierre has been had since Thursday, and it is feared stock in the foot hills and on the Sioux reservation suffered greatly.

TRIPLE TRAGEDY IN OHIO.

Jealous Husband Shoots His Faithless Wife and Her Lover and Suicides.

Wheeling, Nov. 4.—Jealousy caused a terrible tragedy at Georgetown, Ohio, three miles west of this city, all the parties being from Wheeling. Scott Linton shot Dot Gray, a resident of a house of ill fame who is said to be his wife, and also William Metzger, with whom he caught her. With both lying at his feet he fired a bullet into his own brain and died almost instantly. The girl will probably recover but Metzger will die, the bullet passing through his liver. Metzger and the girl went to the home of her parents Sunday night and Linton hearing of it, followed them, finding them together, and without words fired the fatal bullets.

Fired on the Flag.

New York, November 2—Captain Montgomery, of the brig Carib, which arrived to-day from Truxillo, reports that "on October 19, about midnight, a war vessel without lights displayed, was sighted. Shortly afterwards the stranger blew his whistle several times to attract attention and finding that we did not heed him, fired a gun. The brig was hove to and waited for twenty minutes until within speaking distance. The stranger proved to be a Spanish Man-of war. We were hailed and asked our vessel's name and whither bound, also if we had seen any Spanish vessels. After receiving replies they thanked us and said "Good night," steaming away to the eastward without showing her lights. The night was dark and it was impossible to distinguish her rig.

The Murder May Out.

Covington, Ky., Nov. 2.—Signs are pointing to a confession by Jackson and Walling, or, at least, to a getting at the truth of the murder of Pearl Bryan. For two weeks Jackson and Walling have been kept in separate cells and a bitterness is growing up between them. Yesterday Walling said to Turnkey Maurer:

"Why should I be punished for a crime I did not commit? I did not murder Pearl Bryan. Jackson is the man who cut her head off."

Maurer asked why he had not so testified, but Walling declined to answer.

Will Maxime Gomez Attack Havana?

Special advices to the Herald of the movements of the insurgents in Cuba announce the probable siege of Havana within the next sixty days. Gomez, the rebel commander-in-chief, is reported to be rapidly marching westward with that end in view. Macco, having crossed the trocha and traversed Havana province, is declared to be now in Matanzas, ready to co-operate with Gomez.

It must be observed that these startling declarations are made on the authority of the Cubans. It is however, to be noted that the Herald's recent reports from Cuba have indicated that a bold and striking movement was soon to be attempted by the rebel leader. That Gomez has proved his skill in attack as well as in strategy and feint cannot be denied. Further, the Herald's despatches have shown that the insurgent army is now well armed and held under the rein of strict discipline.

With such resources and with dynamite guns, whose effect Artemisa has sad cause to remember, an attack on Havana would seem to be not without the range of possibilities.

Pleasant Ridge.

Rev. W. J. Wagner, of Muncy, accompanied by his pretty little girl spent a few days with his father-in law, Mr. H. K. Hoy last week. Mr. Wagner is a Lutheran minister of that place and he is very well spoken of by the members of his charge.

The Democrats of this vicinity were well pleased with the parade in Bellefonte on Saturday evening Perhaps they will be displeased by next Saturday evening when the returns have come in.

The farmers have nearly finished their corn husking and some are done already. There is plenty of work to do that must either be done now or in the spring such as plowing and picking stones off next summer's mowing fields. The latter is always a tedious job if the small stones are very plenty.

A photographer, of Williamsport, was in this vicinity and got quite a lot of views of family's and their homes. This gentleman took four different views of Mr. H. K. Hoy's buildings and family.

The democratic candidate, William Chronister was all through here looking up his acquaintances last week.

High School 2 Academy 0

A very interesting and exciting game of foot ball was played on the field behind the High School between the second elevens of the High School and Academy. The game was very close and exciting from beginning to end despite the fact that the High School played three men who had played with the first team, last Saturday, when they were defeated by the Academy by the score of 12 to 0

The High School kicked off; Valentine got the ball and advanced it 10 yards. The Academy then by mass plays pushed it down the field 10 yards more and there was a fumble, and Kellar securing the ball to within 25 yards of High School's goal when he was downed by Fasig. The teams were now warmed up and the half ended with the ball in Academy's possession within 15 yards of High School goal. The ball the entire time, being in High School territory.

In the second half, Valentine kicked off the play was about the centre of the field, but Blair by successive kicks worked it down the field. In this kick, Weaver who was unable to see the ball for the sun missed and secured it across the goal line when Doll tackled him, thus securing a safety, the only one score of the game. This half was characterized by hard playing on both sides but at the call of time it was Academy's ball on their 20 yard line. The score was High School 2; Academy 0.

The teams lined up as follows:

Academy	Positions	High School
Fisher, A	L. End	Kline
Decker	L. Tackle	Aikens
Hamilton	L. Guard	Runkle
Rogers	Centre	Twitmire
Larimer	R. Guard	Conoway
Fisher, C	R. Tackle	Harper
Curtin	R. End	Smith
Kellar	Quarterback	Otto
Potter (Capt)	R. H. Back	Doll
Valentine	L. H. Back	Fasig
Weaver	Full Back	Blair

Safety—Weaver, Referee—J. Bower, Umpire—J. R. Hughes, Linesman—G. Curtin.

SUICIDE IN A CEMETERY.

A Little Girl Watches a Man Prepare to Cut His Throat.

About 10 o'clock Friday morning a little girle by the name of McNulty, residing near Forty-ninth street and Westminster avenue, noticed a well dressed man entering Cathedral Cemetery, Philadelphia. She was attracted by his strange actions and followed him to the lot of John McCourt, where he knelt down as though in prayer. Then suddenly he dropped down behind the coping that enclosed the lot. Miss McNulty ran up where he was and was horror stricken at the sight before her. He had cut his throat from ear to ear, severing the windpipe, and in a few moments was dead.

Miss McNulty at once notified Officer Pettit, of the 29th district, who made an examination of the man's clothing. He found a new razor, and a note written by the deceased. The note was signed, R. Mangan, and stated that he was tired of life.

The police later in the day reported that the suicide's name was Richard Morgan, aged 33 years. residence unknown. They also state that the man's troubles were about a woman.

Mississippi Negroes Swindled.

Jackson, Miss. Oct. 30—A few smart Mississippi negroes organized some time since what they called an "ex-slave pension association" and are doing a thriv business. Yesterday 50 negroes from Simpson county came to Jackson to attend a state convention of the ex-slaves, but found no meeting and no one to tell them where they will get the pension money. They joined the numerous clubs organized in their county, paying a small initiation fee of five cents monthly, each club being assessed 50 cents for the state association, with the understanding that as soon as they established the fact that they were ex-slaves they would receive a pension of $100 to $500 cash, according to age and from $8 to $15 per month therethereafter.

The Golden Rods.

One of the most showy fall flowers, says an exchange, is the golden rod. Without it our fields for the greater part would appear as forlorn looking as it is possible for them to look. As it is it completes nature's work of floral succession, with which we are blessed from earliest spring to latest fall. Golden rods are easily transplanted and might be used in our hardy borders more than they now are with great effect. A proper arrangement, considering height and period of blooming will give pleasure equal to many others less common—especially when they are massed.

—Four men who are suspected of having robbed the Roaring Branch station on the Northern Central railroad, last Friday morning, were arrested by Constable Hall and taken to the Williamsport jail. They gave their names as Frank Johnson and John Leighton of Pittston, and James Raymond and William White of Scranton. The men were playing cards in an old lumber camp when the constable and his posse arrested them.

Unique Accident.

Philadelphia, Oct. 31.—Edward Hillon, aged 23 years, of Pittsburg, an employee of the Western Union Telegraph Company, ascended a tall pole on Ninth street to string wires this evening. In some unaccountable manner, one of his shoulders became dislocated while he was at the top of the pole, and he was unable to descend to the pavement. After several unsuccessful attempts he called to several pedestrians, and soon a crowd assembled. All sorts of suggestions were made for the relief of the unfortunate lineman, but all were pronounced impracticable, and Hillon stood a fair chance of spending the night on the pole, when two policemen arrived with a strong rope. A man in the crowd ascended the pole, fastened one end of the rope around Hillon's body and threw the other end over an arm of the pole, and the sufferer was lowered slowly and carefully to the ground and taken to the hospital.

—The School Ship Saratoga landed in the break waters of the Delaware Friday morning. The Bellefonte boys on this ship are Dale Musser, Frank Eckenroth and George Runkle. The latter was met on his arrival by his sister Mrs. Rush Larimer. The boys are all in good health and spirits and report having had a splendid time.

Freaks of a Storm.

Little Rock, Ark., Oct., 30—Mr. Fred Woodcock of Malvern brings the report of a terrific cyclone which passed through the eastern part of Jefferson county yesterday forenoon, doing great destruction. The full extent of the storm cannot be ascertained, but it is known to be quite extensive. A short time previous a heavy wind storm passed over Ashley county, delaying the train near Portland several hours by the debris blown over the track. It is thought to have been only an earlier manifestation of the storm which struck with intensified fury near Sherill, a small station on the Altheimer branch. passing south to north.

Its path was 200 yards wide in some places and not more than 100 in others. Nothing stood before it and barns, houses, fences, stock and forests were carried along in this terrible vortex. It is impossible to ascertain the number of residences blown down or the extent of the damage to property. It is known that fifteen or twenty persons were injured, but no deaths have positively been reported.

Innocent Man Hanged.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Julius Mannow, convicted of the murder of Carey B. Birch, was hanged in the county jail at noon to-day. He wrote a letter yesterday in which he stated that Joseph Windrath, his companion in crime, who was executed June 5 last, was not guilty, claiming that he did the shooting himself.

On the scaffold he reiterated a charge made some time ago that Judge Horton had led him to believe he would escape capital punishment if he confessed, and thus giving him no chance for his life in a trial. His neck was broken by the fall. Mannow had a criminal record extending over a period of ten years, and had twice served terms in the penitentiary for burglary.

Fatally Burned.

Pittsburg, October, 29—Mrs. Mary Wallack, of Baltimore street, Braddock, was fatally burned by an explosion of kerosene to-night. The fire was slow, and to hurry things along she had recourse to the oil can. The oil ignited and exploded burning every stitch of clothing from her person. By the time the neighbors reached her, her entire body was burned to a hardle black crisp. The woman cannot recover, Mrs. Wallack had been married less than two months but is 17 years of age.

America's Common Roads.

The total length of the common roads in this country, good, bad and indifferent. is estimated by General Stone of the Road Bureau of the Department of Agriculture, at something over 1,300,000 miles. The majority of these roads have been opened by common laborers hired by local supervisors, and no engineering principles have been observed in their construction. As a result it costs more to keep them in repair than if they were so many finely macadamized roads.

Keeping these poor roads in repair and opening new thoroughfares cost Massachusetts in 1893, outside of cities, $1,136,941. or $66.30 per mile; New York. $2,500,000, or $30 per mile. and New Jersey, $778, 470.82, or 43.25 per mile. The total expenditure for roads in that year amounted to about $20,000,000. As a greater part of this enormous sum was spent to repair poorly constructed roads that would need exactly the same attention next year, it is not an exaggeration to say that most of the money was wasted.

Fine roads can be constructed all the way from $400 to $500 per mile, according to the nature of the county through which they pass.

A Brutal Murder.

Norristown, Pa., Oct. 30.—A murder, unparalleled in the annals of crime in Montgomery county, was committed early last evening on a public road in Upper Merion township, near Bridgeport. Mrs. Emma Kaiser, the young wife of Charles O. Kaiser, Jr., was shot down as she rode along with her husband, who an hour later was receiving the condolence of friends, but who to-day stands accused of the crime.

The first information of the tragedy was received when Kaiser drove into Bridgeport with the body of his wife beside him. The only witnessed of the crime was the alleged murderer himself and the only details to be had were gleaned from him first by Frank S. Mancil, of the Farmers' hotel, and later by the police.

Mr. Mancil, accompanied by his daughter, was driving to Norristown, and when he reached a point on the road skirting William P. David's farm, near the Trenton Cut-off railroad, he saw Kaiser circling wildly about in the road shouting "Murder, help." In a carriage standing in the road lay Mrs. Kaiser, dead. Alighting from his vehicle Mr. Mancil listened to Kaiser's story of a highway robbery and the shooting of himself and wife. Kaiser appeared to be frenzied with agony and Mancil suggested that probably the woman was only unconscious and that the best thing to do was to drive to the office of a physician. Kaiser was finally persuaded to drive ahead of Mr. Mancil's team to the office of Dr. Mann, in Bridgeport. Kaiser propped the body between his shoulder and the carriage curtain, the blood steaming from the wound and clotting on his coat. The body was carried into the office, and when it was placed on the floor, exposing a ghastly wound in the left temple, Kaiser twice fainted.

Kaiser said that his wife was shot as she was drawing her watch chain over her head to hand it to the bandit, and that he raised his arm and received a bullet near the shoulder that was intended for his head.

The police doubted the story and began an investigation and this morning Chief of Police Rodenbaugh, Coroner Kurtz and Mr. Mancil recovered the alleged stolen articles.

From inmates of the boarding house where the couple lived it was learned that Kaiser and his wife carried a joint insurance of $10,000 on their lives, the policies being so written that the death of either would make the other the beneficiary, and that several weeks ago Kaiser and his wife each executed a will, each making the other executor and sole legatee. Kaiser is 24 years of age and his wife was 32. They came here from Lancaster on June 1, having previously lived in Altoona. Mrs. Kaiser's maiden name was Emma P. Rule, her father being George Rule, of Penn Village, Lancaster county. The officers this morning found the alleged stolen articles secreted along a fence near the scene of the shooting. A man's gold watch a revolver with two empty chambers and a purse containing $5 and supposed to have belonged to Mrs. Kaiser were found. Kaiser is at his boarding house in the custody of a detective. It is understood that a formal warrant will be issued for his arrest.

The Air Brakes Failed.

Lynn, Mass., Oct.—The Rockport express on the Eastern division of the Boston & Maine railroad, leaving at 4:10 this afternoon, had a narrow escape from being precipitated into Saugus river through the failure, it is said, of the air brakes to work. As it was, the engine of the train went into the river, while the tender and first passenger car were both derailed, and to night hang over the edge of the draw within a few feet of the rushing water.

The Saugus river draw was open this morning to allow a coal barge to pass through. The draw is amply protected by signals, and the draw tender declares that all were set at danger. The barge had passed through and the draw was partially closed when the Rockport express came in sight. As usual the train slackened speed as it approached the draw, but instead of stopping at the signal, it pushed on in spite of every effort on the part of the engineer to apply the brakes and bring it to a standstill. Engineer Doherty then whistled for the hand brakes, and the train hands by quick work managed to stop the train, but not before the engine had reached the draw and toppled over into the stream. Engineer Doherty and fireman Jamison, when they found that the engine was going through the draw, jumped and were rescued from the river somewhat injured. There were nearly 300 passengers on the train.

Started the Men Thinking.

When the 500 employes of the Valentine Iron company received their pay Saturday evening in each envelope was found a slip of paper with the words: "This dollar is worth 100 cents. If Bryan is elected it will be worth 53."

Essay subject, "Friendship."

What is the idea conveyed by that word—no voice so welcome as that of friendship. It rejoices in prosperity—speaks comfort in diversity—full of sympathy.

Sentiment of friendship exercises a beneficent influence on the human character. Friendship must be founded on virtue and well grounded esteem—Friendship of the good seldom disturbed by a conflict of interests. True friendship a source of infinite happiness all strive to be friendly to others.

After a discussion of 1½ hours the judges decided in favor of the affirmative.

Was Weary of Wickedness.

Wheeling, W. Va., Oct. 30.—Rhea Lape, 18 years of age, took carbolic acid last night while on the street and was carried to a boarding house, where a physician succeded in saving her life.

Her story is a sad one. She was, until three months ago, employer by a Pittsburg business man as his stenographer. Her employed died, and her father, with whom she was living, died soon after. Coming to Wheeling to find a married sister, who could not be located, she met some girl friends, who induced her to go to a disorderly house. She lived there and yesterday, desiring to end all, took poison. She is now at the Rescue home, and may recover. She says she has a brother in Toledo, Ohio., studying for the ministry.

A slick swindler is working the towns in nearly counties by securing orders for cabinet photographs at a reduced rate, collecting part of the price, and that is the last heard of him or the money.

A QUESTION IN DISPUTE.

Case of Collins and Martin Against the City of Altoona.

A lawyer from Bellefonte, who represents Collins & Martin in the suit brought by them against Altoona, was in town last night, and in answer to certain questions said to a Tribune reporter:

What is the trouble between Collins & Martin and the Water Commissioners in regard to the impounding reservoir?

There is no particular trouble between the Commissioners and us. Mr Knight, the engineer, has not classified the masonry done by Snyder Bros. for us according to the specifications as we think they should read. We settled with them for cut stone masonry. That Mr. Knight only allows for ruble or dry wall masonry at $6 per yard, which should have been returned to us as cut stone masonry. We offered to settle with the City, or Water Commissioners, provided they paid Snyder Bros. according to the specifications for cut stone masonry, which they refused to do, or go behind the engineer's classification of the work.

We settled with Snyder Bros., allowing them $2.50 per yard more than their price according to their contract with us, believing that they could collect of us for cut stone masonry. We have offered over and over to the Commissioners to refer the matter to three disinterested engineers, the Commissioners selecting one, we one, and they the third, whose decision should be binding, final and conclusive on the city and us. We have in every way tried to avoid a suit, but the Commissioners have advised us to bring such, and we are willing to abide by the result. The Commissioners hold $18,350 back money from us, which has been due for over two months. If the city should be the sufferer it can't be laid at our door.—Altoona Tribune.

Funeral of Mrs. Nancy Ashton Straub

The funeral of Mrs. Nancy Ashton Straub, took place from her late residence Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The floral offerings were very beautiful and the attendance large. Rev. J. W. Rhue, of the Methodist Episcopal church, officiated assisted by Rev. G. W. Zeiner of the Evangelical church. The pall-bearers were Wilbur Twitmyer, Henry Musser, C. C. Shuey, Andrew Bell, John Olewine and J. P. Smith. Interment in the Union cemetery.

Crushed By a Car.

Wilkesbarre, Pa Oct., 29—A fatal accident occurred on the Wyoming Valley traction line at 1 o'clock this morning, in which one woman was killed and two women and a boy seriously injured. A car from Pittston jumped the track and fell upon its side pinioning four of the passengers under the wreck.

Julia Walsh, aged 20, body and legs cut off, died; Maggie Curley, aged 28, cut on head and injured internally. Julia Curley, aged 20, arm broken; Dennis Hoban, aged 17, leg broken and internal injuries.

Death of Jerimiah Eckenroth.

Jermiah Eckenroth, one of the most prominent citizens of Pleasant Gap, died Thursday morning about 7 o'clock after a prolonged illness. He was 69 years of age and leaves to mourn his loss a loving wife and one daughter, Mrs. George Wells of near that place. He was a faithful member of the Lutheran church, an honest upright man and will be greatly missed in the community in which he so long lived. Funeral to-morrow Saturday morning at 10 o,clock.

Killed on the Tracks.

York, Pa., Oct. 29.—The terribly mangled bodies of Levi Becker, a young farmer and a man named King, of Brooklyn, were found to-day on the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad. The men had evidently been killed last night while walking on the tracks.

The bodies were found about a mile apart and it was impossible to identify them except by their clothing.

Peter Evers and Minnie E. Whitman, of Hublersburg.

Karstetter—Furey.

Web Karstetter of this place was united in marriage Wednesday evening to Millie M. Furey of Spring Twp. The bride is a daughter of a well-to-do farmer and the groom is engaged in the bakery business on Bishop street. The ceremony took place at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride, Dr. Wm. Laurie officiating. We wish them much happiness.

Anna Carpenter Adams.

Born March 21st, 1828, died on October 25th, 1896. Deceased was a daughter of Charles Carpenter, who served as prothonotary of this county from 1839 to 1845, and in 1847 she was married to Thomas M. Adams, this place.

She was a most exemplary Christian woman and had lived in the comfort of Methodism since girlhood. Though she had no warning of the approach of death and had retired the night before in her usual good health the fact that she was a dead corpse in a few hours leaves no fear in the minds of those who knew her that she was not ready to meet her Creator, for her life had been faith in him and she bided her time with that comforting assurance that every soul baptized of the spirit is borne up with,

The following children survive: Charles Milesburg; Frank, Bellefonte; Richard, Philipsburg; William H., of Boggs Twp., Geo. and Fannie, of Milesburg. The latter was in bed with her mother when she died. Four children are dead: James, Sara, Weaver, who was killed in Philipsburg, and an infant daughter

Rev King conducted the services at her funeral, which was held on Tuesday, and burial was made in this place.—Watchman.

A Desperate Burglar.

Johnstown, Pa., Oct. 29.—A desperate battle between Officer James Kelley and a daring burglar to-night resulted in the fatal wounding of the latter, who is dying at the Memorial hospital. It was one of the fiercest attacks in the annals of police circles in the city and was a desperate attempt to kill the officer. The burglar, whose identity could not be established was discovered robbing the residence of Otto Hertzinger on Railroad street, and after attempting to kill Mr. Hertzinger, made his escape from the house.

Officer Kelly at once gave chase and overtook the man in a dark alley. Then followed a murderous attack. The burglar fired two shots at the officer, but before he could fire a third time fell with a bullet in his train. He cannot live more than a few hours. Officer Kelly was placed under arrest, awaiting the result of the man's injuries.

Skeleton keys, a burglar's blow pipe, a pound of giant powder, a Bull dog revolver and numerous other burglar tools were found on the man.

More Money Than Brains.

Colorado Springs, Col., Oct., 29.—W. S. Stratton, the rich gold mine owner of Cripple Creek, yesterday made an offer to bet $100,000 against $300,000 that W. J. Bryan will be elected president, Mr. Strattan agrees that if he wins he will give the money to the Colorado Springs free Library, and if the others win they are to have the money. A syndicate of rich men in this city is trying to raise the $300,000. Mr. Strattan says he does not make the offer through any pointers that he has had on the election, but believes their patriotism will arouse the working men to the necessity of voting for Bryan. Mr. Stratton is the Colorado Springs carpenter who became a multi-millionaire in Cripple Creek. He says that the maintenance of the gold standard would be better for him, but not for the masses, and he believes in upholding the masses.

—We are informed that Jacob Leathers, an aged citizen of the Eastern end of Boggs township, received probably fatal injuries one day last week. He was engaged in doing some work on the loft over the barn floor when a board upon which he was standing gave way and he was thrown to the floor below. It is hoped that his injuries may not be so serious as at first supposed.

—J. E. Solt of this city, was notified on the 28th inst., that a patent was granted him on a suspender buckle, which for cheapness and durability convenience and strength has surpassed any invention thus far placed on the market. Mr. Solt is an inventive genius, and his last patent promises him a rich reward.

—P. W. Barnhart, Esq., a resident of Boggs township who is now in hi 84th year, is now in a feeble health. Mr. Barnhart was at one time Commissioner of Centre county and for many years held the office of Justice of the Peace in his township.

—The Undine Fire Company is getting ready for the annual Thanksgiving ball. Elaborate preparations are being made to make this a grand success.

The Grange affords extraordinary opportunities for the accomplishment of good. Every community that is blessed with a good live organization is well up with the times. It not only affords the highest privileges in educating the people of the rural districts to appreciate their noble calling and the importance of uniteing their efforts for the elevation of the great agricultural class, but it introduces and tencourages a fraternal sentiment among the tillers of the soil which time cannot obliterate. Were all farmers to avail themselves of its advantages there can be no question but the "good time coming" would soon be ushered in. Now is the time to join. Let kindly invitation be sent out and we believe the organization will receive large additions during the coming winter.

BISMARK MAY BE PROSECUTED.

Dire Threats to Hang Over Him if He Tells Any More State Secrets.

London, Oct. 29.—A special dispatch from Berlin says it is understood there that the proposed prosecution of Prince Bismark's organ—the Hamburg Nachrichten—for publishing state secrets, has been abandoned out of fear of the harm such a step might do to Germany's foreign policy. It is added, that however, should Prince Bismark publish the circumstances under which the resigned office, the government will be forced to act, and it is said it would probably treat Prince Bismark in the same manner that the latter treated Count Von Armin.

Count Von Armin was arrested in Oct. 1874, and confined in Berlin for refusing to give up documents sent to him as embassador. On account of illness he was released on bail some three weeks later, but again arrested in about two weeks' time. He was tried in December 1874 was convicted with making away with ecclesio-political documents, was acquitted on other charges, and was sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

He appealed, was tried again in June, 1875, and a verdict was rendered confirming the sentence. In November of the same year it was announced that Count Von Armin was to be prosecuted for treason in a phamphlet entitled "Pro Nihilo" published at Zurich. In January, 1879, the count published "Quaid Facimus Nos" and in May 1881, he died at Nice, as a result, it was said by Prince Bismark's enemies, of the persecution to which he had been subjected by the chancellor.

Gave the Minister Money.

Williamsport, Pa., Oct. 30.—For several days two knights of the road have been robbing wayfarers who passed through the woods near Mehaffey, via the turnpike. On Tuesday Dr. Green, a prosperous physician, was held up at the point of a revolver and was compelled to hand over $50.

Yesterday a traveling minister passed through and was accosted by the thieves. He stated that he had no money, but offered his old silver watch. The men refused to accept it and presented the minister with a $5 bill. Later Dr. Green appeared with a posse and surprised the highwaymen, who were captured after a desperate resistance, one of them being shot in the thigh They are jailed in Coalport.

Firebugs at Work.

The handsome new Beta Theta Fraternity House at State College, which is already for occupancy, came near being burned to the ground early this morning. When the flames were discovered they had already eaten a large hole in the floor of the reception parlor.

As the building was unoccupied and the workmen had not used any fire in their work for several days it is generally thought the flames were of incendiary origen. Soon after college opened last year the Beta Theta House was burned to the ground, causing a loss to the students of many thousands of dollars.

Suicide at Shamokin.

Shamokin, Pa., Oct. 29.—John Stankiewicz organist at the Lithuanian Church, and prominent in Catholic music circles, committed suicide last night. Mental troubles are said to have been the cause. He swallowed laudanum and died on the pavement outside his wife's home.

Billy Moore Won.

Buffalo. N. Y., October 29.—At the Empire Atheletic club to-night "Billy" Moore, of Syracuse, knocked out "Kid" Kerwin, of Toledo, in the third round.

Matty Matthews, of New York, defeated Stanton Abbott, of London in seven rounds.

—One of the oldest love letters in the world is the proposal of marriage for the hand of an Egyptian princess. It is in the British museum and is in the form of an inscribed brick about 3,500 years old.

—A large crowd of State College students, with the State College band, accompanied their foot ball team to Williamsport this morning. They play Bucknell at Athletic Park this afternoon.

—A dog belonging to John Dawson, of Coleville, went mad yesterday and raised 'cain' for a little while in that village. He bit two dogs and killed 14 chickens before his career was brought to an end by a well directed bullet from a gun in the hands of a citizen of that place.

—Tony Farrell, in "Garry Owen," entertained a fair sized audience at Garman's Opera House last night. It was the opening play of the season and Manager Garman is to be congratulated on securing so good an attraction. Mr. Tony Farrell has a fine stage appearance, is a good actor and a sweet singer. He kept the audience continually laughing by his witty sayings. The support was fairly good.

DEMOCRACY'S NIGHT

Large Parade and Mass Meeting Held By Centre County Democrats.

SPANGLER, KERR AND TAYLOR SPEAK

Large Crowd of People Witness The Parade—Democrats and Republicans Alike on The Street—Fine Display of Fireworks—Delegations From Different Parts of The County Arrive on Special Trains—Several Handsome Floats.

The Democruts of Centre county turned out in large numbers on Saturday night to witness and take part in the large parade and mass meeting held in this place.

Special trains were run on all railroads and large delegations were in attendance from Penns Valley, Buffalo Run Valley, Nittany Valley and other parts of the county. Many also drove in and large numbers came on horseback.

The Democrats were much favored by the fact of it being Saturday night, also by the splendid weather which had prevailed all day, thus insuring to those who wished to attend a nice night. Then it was well advertised and a big effort was made to excel the splendid parade of the Republicans on last Tuesday night, October 26. So it is not to be wondered at that such a large crowd was present. The parade was a long one and reflected great credit on the management. Probably 1,000 people were in line

The Junior Bryan and Sewall club made a fine showing in their handsome uniforms. Quite a number of splendid bands made the air ring with their melody. The floats were a unique feature of the parade and one much admired. One represented the Goddess of Liberty with her hands fettered with handcuffs of gold. Two other handsome floats each represented the battle cry of Free Silver, 16 to 1. There were sixteen handsome young ladies dressed in white, representing silver, and one in yellow, representing gold. "The Gladiators," represented by two pretty little boys. One dressed in gold lay prostrate, while bending over him was the other, dressed in silver, with uplifted knife. Poor Mark Hanna had to take it. He was exhibited sitting on an immense barrel covered with $ and a banner over him labeled "The genuing, simonpure Hanna." A cart drawn by a mule and filled with bags supposed to contain money was labeled "Mark Hanna's Campaign Fund."

Mr. A. S. Garman acted as Chief Marshal, and worked hard to make the affair a success. Mr. Garman and his assistants deserve much credit for the way they managed it.

The parade moved exactly on time, over the same route, and in the same order as mapped out by them and published in last Thursday's DAILY NEWS. There were no accidents and no mistakes and everything passed off smoothly.

Immediately after the parade a meeting was held in the Court House, presided over by C. M. Bower, Esq. John Noll was secretary and a long list of vice presidents were read.

Capt. Hugh S. Taylor was the first speaker of the evening. Capt. Taylor is one of the rising young men of our town, and as a spellbinder he takes the front rank. His speech was a brilliant effort. He discussed the silver question at length and closed by appealing to his hearers to stand by their County ticket, stand by Col. J. L. Spangler, stand by the State and National tickets.

Hon. James R. Turner, of Michigan, was next introduced. Mr. Turner is a very witty and eloquent talker and kept his audience continually laughing and cheering. He established a reputation for himself with his audience as a story teller by telling some very funny stories.

Col. J. L. Spangler received quite an ovation when he arose to speak. The crowd cheered for several minutes, and he was frequently interrupted during his speech by the cheers of his admirers. He thanked the audience for the cordial reception and congratulated them on the grand demonstration of the evening. He prophesied Democratic victory on November 3rd. Col. Spangler took this opportunity to deny that he was in favor of the repeal of the Oleomargerine law. He also denied that he was opposed to the old soldier, and gave facts to establish the truth of these assertions.

Hon. James Kerr of Clearfield was the last speaker. Mr Kerr is a very eloquent talker. He made the usual argument in favor of free coinage; denouncing the money power in strong terms.

Below we give the order of parade. There were many houses and business places decorated along the route. The display of fireworks, under the charge of George T. Bush, also deserves special mention:

A Brutal Crime.

Richmond, Mo., Oct. 27.—Mrs. Eva Winner and her two children, a girl aged 3 years and a boy aged 18 months, were murdered last night. The woman's head was cut with an ax and the throats of the children were cut and their spinal cords severed. Bloodhounds are being used to track the murderer.

A little deaf and dumb girl, a child of Mrs. Winner by a former marriage, was present when the murder was committed, but is unable to tell anything of the crime. Upon the recommendation of the coroner's jury the husband, Jesse Winner, who was absent from home when the family retired but returned early in the morning, was taken into custody pending further investigation.

WIVES ARE WANTED.

A Chance for Many Hundreds of Young Women to Secure Husbands for Themselves.

San Francisco, Oct. 29.—The mining camp of Trail Creek and Boundary Creek, British Columbia, where there are ten men to one woman, want wives. Steady work with good pay, with the fact that British Columbia laws frown severely on gambling and drinking, have made the miners prosperous.

The question of getting wives was raised recently as a joke, but the outcome has been to thoroughly advertise the fact that a large number of marriageable girls can find good husbands by emigrating to the mining districts of British Columbia.

J. G. Devlin, a prominent miner, who went recently to Toronto and Montreal to sell mining property, discussed the matter and got the newspapers to discussing it. He told the Canadians that if they would send 1,500 nice girls out to Rossland alone every one would get a good husband. Reports show that already the girls are taking up the matter seriously. The miners are willing and the first lot of would-be wives will be arranged for next spring.

Shoe Factories Closed.

Portsmouth, O., Oct. 29.—Every shoe factory in this town save one large and one small one are closed. Twenty-five hundred employes are cut. Most of these are girls from country homes. The town is almost without business.

THE FOREMOST POSITION.

When "The Philadelphia Record" undertook nineteen years ago to demonstrate that the best of morning newspapers could be made and sold for one cent, publishers were generally skeptical. But the world of readers was not asleep. Consequently "The Record" was not long in reaching a commanding position, and, improving upon it is, its circulation and influence were finally recognized among the foremost of America's great journals. Hence the compliment of imitation, which is now paid to it in every city of note from the Atlantic coast to the Mississippi valley. Every city worth mentioning now has one or more good one cent morning dailies, though so recently as only 19 years ago, Philadelphia and and "The Record" stood alone in this respect.

With an average daily circulation of over 100,000 copies, and an average of about 120,000 on Sundays, "The Record" is still, regardless of all imitation, easily a leader of leading newspaper. A paper so good, with 10 to 14 pages for one cent, is still very properly a favorite. —A hobo tramping from Williamsburg towards Martinsburg stopped at a well todo farmer's on Piney creek and begged for bread. The farmer offered him corn husking for the one tenth bushel and his boarding. The wayfarer accepted the terms. His share was 37 bushels. He wanted the farmer to buy his share. The husbandman could not do so because he did not have sufficient money to pay for it. The wanderer said that he would never be caught in another like snap, and that his working days are over.

—The rabbit shooting season began Sunday November 1st. The bunnies are said to be plentiful, but not as plentiful as in Australia, where they have for years been pests that prove greatly destructive to the crops of that country. When the term plentiful is applied to Pennsylvania rabbits it must not be understood as meaning an abundance equal to that of Australia, but just enough of the little creatures to make the hunting of them good sport to the average gunner.

As long as they are entirely harmless, doing no damage to crops, nor in any sense injuring human beings or animals, it seems a pity to have these annual slaughterings, but not to make them permissable by law would be an affront to American tastes in such matters, for as with the buffalo, as long as there is one rabbit left there will be sportsmen to hunt it to death.

Death of Philip W. Barnhart.

At the ripe old age of 84 years, Philip Barnhart one of Roland's oldest and most estimable residents, closed his eyes in death yesterday at 4.30 o'clock. Possessed of a very retentive memory he was a most delightful companion because of the great fund of stories, incident to the early history of the country, he carried in his mind. The cause of his death was a general break-down of the system. He was an honest, upright, conscientious man served as Jus. of Peace, also Co. commissioner. He was the father of a large family of whom the following survived him: Lucy and Joseph of Renova, Amanda at home, Harry of Punxsutawney, James K. and Mrs. J. C. Weaver of this city. The dead are Mrs. S. H. Orris of Milesburg, and Mrs. H. H. Harshberger of Bellefonte, his aged wife having proceeded him to the grave last March. Thus has one passed away, after having served his God, country and home exemplifying that whatsoever a man soweth that also shall he reap.

Funeral Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, interment in the cemetery at Roland.

Burglars on the Rampage.

Once again the people of Bellefonte are startled by the visit of midnight marauders. Five houses were entered by burglars last night. They were the residences of W. W. Montgomery, John M. Dale, Charles Cruse and Mrs. Anna Woodcock, on East Linn street, and Dr. J. E Ward on Curtin street. The burglaries occured between three and four o'clock. At every place they visited they gained an entrance by prying open windows.

At the residence of John M. Dale, after ramsacking the drawers and cupboards on the lower floor were frightened away before securing the plunder. They ran out the front door leaving it wide open. Miss Jennie Crittenden who lives next door was aroused by the noise and getting up looked out the window in time to see a man run down the terrace between her house and Mr. Dales.

At W. W. Montgomery's they pried open a window on the upper side of the house, carefully removed a plant from the window and set it in a chair on the porch. Climbing in Mr. Burglar set a rocking chair out of the way so as to give an open road to the window. The footprints outside the window and on the porch indicate that there were two men. One was evidently left outside to watch while the other ramsacked the house. Mrs. Montgomery who has been ill for a week or two past kept a light burning in her room all night. She is a light sleeper and about quarter of four this morning she was awake and was startled by seeing a shadow cross the room between her and the light. She looked up and saw a man with a mask over his face and dark lantern in his hand. She awoke her daughter who sleeps with her, who on seeing the burglar screamed. Frightened by this the burglar blew out the light leaving the room in total darkness. Mr. Montgomery was aroused by this and thinking his wife worse came out into the hall seeing the burglar, he called for his son, Joseph to bring his revolver. The burglar hearing this when he was about half way down stairs drew his revolver and fired in the air with the intention of frightening them. Joe Montgomery was asleep in another room and did not hear the noise until it was too late and the thief had escaped; nothing was taken. Drawers and side board were standing open and Mr. Montgomery's coat was spread out ready to receive the plunder. But they were frightened away before they were ready to complete their job. They went through the lower floor at residence of Charles Cruse opening drawers and cupboards. All they could find was 25 cents which they found in the girls coat which she had left laying on a chair and a couple of crusader cigars which Charlie had thoughtlessly left laying on the centre table.

Mr. Lee Woodcock was the principal loser in this series of burglaries. They entered his mothers house on East Linn street by prying open the back window. Helping themselves to matches they scattered them around the house so as to have them convient, as they had been doing in all the houses they entered. They opened drawers and closets but did not take anything, leaving valuable silverware untouched. Going up stairs they took Lee Woodcock's gold watch and chain, a pocket book containing five dollars and his trousers. Lee says if they just return the watch and chain and the trousers there will be no questions asked. They left Woodcock's house by the front door leaving it open. At the residence of Dr. Ward the individual members of the family lock their bed room doors so that the thieves were unable to get up stairs. But they made a thorough search of the lower floor taking nothing but little Arthur Wards saving bank containing a dollar or so in pennies. It is believed, that the men who committed these burglaries will soon be apprehended It is to be hoped that this is so and that the officers are on the right track as it is only a few weeks since the residences of Chas. Cook, F. W. Crider and John T. Johnson were entered. Something should certainly be done to stop it. Night watchman should be appointed to patrol the streets, so that our citizens can rest in peace without the constant fear of robbery.

While the result in Centre county is not what the Republicans hoped for, still there is much to rejoice over. As it has been considered a staunch Democratic county heretofore the result is certainly a great tribune to County Chairman W. E. Gray and other Republican leaders who did not spare themselves in any way in order to plant Centre County in the Republican column. McKinley has a majority of 394 in the county, Arnold for congress, 119, Kline for treasurer, 372, Riddle for commissioner 355, Fisher for same office 214, Locke for Coroner 108. Cleaver county surveyor 252. Both Republican auditors are also elected by safe majorities. The Democrats have elected the following officers by small majorities. Legislature Foster, 582, Schofield 101, Sheriff, Cronister by 25 commissioner, Heckman, 50 majority over his associate, Meyer, Rumberger, Register 361. Harper for recorder 310.

Wm. Arnold is elected to Congress in this district by over 2000 majority.

Below we give further terms from the different election precincts in the county:

COUNCIL IN SESSION.

Business of Importance Transacted at Their Semi-Monthly Meeting.

Bellefonte Council convened in their rooms last evening shortly after seven, with the following members present. Williams, Lowery, Hillibish, Gerberich, Schaeffer, Valentine and Keller. In the absence of President Brockerhoff who was unavoidably detained. Harry Keller, Esq., acted as chairman. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Clerk Isaac Mitchell and approved by the council.

Chairman Williams of the street committee reported that the principle work done was the placing of crushed stone on Spring street, between Howard and Curtin streets. Several sewers were opened up and cleaned. In relation to the application of Monroe Armor, in reference to opening up Armor St. Street committee stated that the street could be put in good repair by cutting away a little of Linn street in front of Cruse's residence. Cost would not exceed $100 00. And a greater portion of it, paid for by the men we get from the overseer of the poor. Chairman Gerberich of the water committee was next heard from. Everything in good order, pump running 14 hours Pipe has been laid to Wetzels house on Linn street.

Fire and police had nothing to report, neither had the Nuisance committee.

Clerk Mitchell read a report of the borough treasurer.

Mr. Gerberich reported the bad condition of Dunlop street from mill up to Fue & Supply Co's yards. It was referred to Street Committee with power to act.

A communication was read from citizens of Spring street requesting the council to take some action to compel the owners of the Boal property on Spring street to repair the walk in front of their property. This was referred to the street committee with power to act.
